OUR ROSE PLEDGE

When families entrust us with their loved one, they are assured their final resting place will be treated with honor and respect. A single bronze rose encased in an elegant velvet case represents our dedication to provide excellent care of the cemetery. In the tip of the rose is a small amount of soil from the burial site ensuring that a piece of their loved one's eternal resting place remains with them forever. Each rose is engraved with their loved one's name and a description of the burial site's location. Our commitment is backed by our perpetual care fund designed to provide such care for the cemetery for many years.

Memorialize your loved one... A life remembered

Throughout history memorials have been designed to evoke the remembrance of a loved one's life and to identify their final resting place. Manufactured from granite or bronze, memorials are a lasting tribute to a loved one that can be viewed by family and friends soon after their loss and for future generations to come. Memorials manufactured today can include life like etchings, pictures and three-dimensional carvings that represent many facets of the deceased's life. A life memorialized is a life remembered.

Grief lasts beyond the services of a loved one and family members may return to the cemetery as they rekindle their memories. Franklin Memorial Gardens is a place of peace and beauty for the family during their visits. As time passes, families ponder their own demise, how they want to be remembered and where they want their final resting place to be. Franklin Memorial Gardens offer families a choice of ground burial with upright monuments or bronze memorials, mausoleum entombment or a cremation columbarium. Family Estate lots are offered to families who prefer their burial sites be together regardless of when the need arises.
